Course Description and Objectives

The course provides an overview of the most important strategic decisions to be taken in a globalized economy. As such, the course aims to introduce a set of contemporary strategy theories, concepts and frameworks that will allow students to identify important principles that a firm can use in taking decisions that will ultimately determine its success (or demise) in a global business environment.

Throughout the course we will outline key opportunities, challenges and risks of globalization. We will focus on global growth opportunities and market assessment techniques. We will discuss strategic decisions and emphasize the need to balance local responsiveness and global synergies.

Drawing on the Resource Based View (RBV) of the firm, we will analyse global competitiveness and we will look at ways in which firms achieve competitive advantage in a global marketplace.

The most prominent digital trends will also be discussed, as well as the challenges that digitalization brings to the business models of international firms. We will also examine corporate social responsibility (CSR) as a universal platform for the development and implementation of global business strategy.

The approach used is both strategic and managerial. Strategic in that we will develop an appreciation of business strategies and understand the notion of competitive advantage. And managerial, in that we will look at global strategy tasks through the lenses of IB managers and executives.

The course uses a combination of interactive lectures, case discussions and group presentations. Attendance and participation in class discussions is critical to the success of the course and will determine your grade.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The course aims to develop strategic thinking in a global business context. You will learn key concepts and tools used in developing global business strategies and in solving global business problems.

By the end of the course students will be able to:

- Appreciate the idiosyncrasies involved in developing strategies for global markets.
- Acknowledge the complexities involved in taking strategic decisions in a global marketplace.
- Contextualize these decisions in light of internal capabilities and external environment.
- Employ key analytical tools and frameworks helpful to managers developing global strategies.
- Understand global competition and competitive advantage.
- Analyse cases that approximate global business strategy situations.

Course Policies and Useful Information:

- Lectures will take place on site and some possibly online (Zoom)– Please see all information in Moodle.
- The final exam will take place in the classroom.
- Both the course and the exam will be held in English.
