Objectives & Content

This course is designed to offer students the opportunity to delve into aspects of the research process for the study of International Business (IB) phenomena. It applies elements learned in other courses of the Chair of IB by supporting students to develop a complete piece of work from the initial idea through to a final written report (the Masterarbeit thesis).

The course aims to support students in their process towards the master thesis and helps develop skills on self-directed study. Students will be invited to research analyse a specific area of scholarly interest in the realm of IB. Students will undertake a research project in the area of IB and make appropriate choices of theoretical lenses and research methods. The syllabus covers critical stages of the research project:

- Research question definition
- Specification of research gap
- Literature review
- Theory identification
- Development of conceptual framework
- Structure of the methodology section
- Structure of the thesis
- Writing up the project

Course Policies

The course has “prüfungsimmanenten Charakter”. Attendance is compulsory throughout the semester. Absence from two course units is possible. A course unit is a 90-minute session. Further absences will automatically result in a “fail” grade. Attendance is compulsory during assessment (e.g. presentations etc.).

Both the course and the assessment are held in English. During the course active participation is required during all lessons.

Students wishing to take this course must register via u:find/u:space (without points) during the registration period. The maximum number of participants is 14.

Registered students who, for whatever reason, are not able to take the course must de-register electronically by the 8th October 2025. Students who decide to drop the course after this deadline will be graded with 5 (failed).

It is absolutely essential that all registered students attend the first session on 7th October 2025 (Introduction). As failure to do so will result in their exclusion from the course.
